GREETINGS EVERYONE:

Compassion, Care, and Comfort Through End of Life remains at the forefront of all we do. Our patient and family-centered care helps patients’ achieve their personal goals in a way that is meaningful to their life.

In 2015, Hospice of Southern Maine cared for more patients and families throughout Cumberland and York Counties than ever before, and we matured as an organization in service to our community. Yet, even after reaching more individuals we still heard, “We wish we had known about hospice sooner.”

Through our vision to “positively shift societal attitudes concerning death and dying, grief and loss,” we sought to help people know about us sooner. We began successfully focusing our efforts on education for physicians, clinicians, and the general community. Education is at the core of our work and we feel we made significant strides in this important endeavor.

The accomplishments highlighted throughout this report could not have been realized without the passion, dedication and support of more than 150 employees, nearly as many volunteers, and several members from the communities we serve. To all of you we say, “Thank you so very much!”

We are confident that HSM will continue to lead the way in providing end-of-life care and education in southern Maine. Thank you for your continued support and for helping us meet our vital mission and vision and the needs of all the patients’ and families who need our care.

Hospice of Southern Maine is a nonprofit 501 (c)3 organization. JUDY AND DAVID EMERY met at the University of Vermont while both were working toward their degrees. Judy earned a Bachelor of Science in Textiles & Home Economics, and David was part of the Air Force ROTC & the Army National Guard. David and Judy had a wonderful marriage of more than 55 years; in David’s words: “We grew up together, both as individuals and as a couple. Our family motto is ‘Onward and Upward, Savor It Now.’”

They traveled the world, raising their two children, working hard and serving their community. They took on challenges together including: buying a textile company (Judy was president) and letting the employees select the new owners once it prospered. They loved sailboats. For more than 50 years they cruised the Gulf of Maine islands: sailing from Maine to the Bahamas and back, and sailing the oceans of the world.

They lived a life true to their motto, even after Judy was diagnosed with breast cancer and its later fateful re-occurrence.

From the beginning, Judy and David made the decision to treat her cancer aggressively, and if the time came they would seek hospice.

As Judy’s illness worsened, she was admitted to the Southern Maine Health Care hospital emergency room. It was there that her medical team recommended Hospice of Southern Maine’s Gosnell Memorial Hospice House to best manage her pain symptoms, or to go home with hospice care. Judy made the decision that she would go to Gosnells. It was a

“I AM STANDING UPON THE SEASHORE. A ship at my side spreads her white sails to the moving breeze and starts for the blue ocean…and, just at the moment when someone says, ‘There, she’s gone.’…other voices ready to take up the glad shout, ‘Here she comes!’” difficult decision, but they knew Judy would receive the care she needed. David doesn’t know what they would have done without “beautiful Gosnell,” as he refers to it. “I think Judy was thinking of me when she made the decision to be admitted to Gosnell…about how very difficult it would possibly be for me to administer medications and such during Judy’s last days with us at home,” said David.

Along with their many interests of sailing, gardening, skiing, and hiking all over the Eastern United States and Europe, Judy and David had a huge lifelong joy for music. The day before Judy died at Gosnell, that love was brought to Gosnell when 50 plus members of their choir and church came to sing in the beautiful flower-filled garden patio outside Judy’s room. Family and friends singing outside her window to celebrate Judy, her love for singing and her church has become a very special and long remembered moment.

“The last day seemed like a lifetime, but Judy was ready,” David said. Judy Newton Emery, David’s “rudder” in life, died at Gosnell House on July 11, 2014.

Just over a year and a half later, David reflected on his grief process. “Carol Schonberg-Robinson (HSM End-Of-Life Educator & Bereavement Service Manager) was a vitally important listening post for me. She validated who I am, and rarely encouraged me to look in a different direction than I was looking…she was beautifully experienced with the business of grief and was always there for me. Not only a great listener, Carol was for me an experienced and intuitive counselor.

As I look back on it, I ask myself, ‘How did Carol turn me?’ The truth is, she didn’t…she helped me to turn me…to honor Judy and myself by moving from today into tomorrow with a bright spirit, to not bring into this day or any tomorrows the sorrows of the past, my loss of Judy.

I am the same person now. My values are the same, my deep involvement in community service is the same, my abiding love for and by family and friends is the same, but I am now at peace. I could have pretended, but Carol helped me with the reality that Judy was in a safe place now free of cancer. To honor both of us, I needed to move on with my head held high. So, my grief is replaced by honoring both Judy’s and my life together, and us as individuals.”

When recently interviewed, David concluded: “I will forever give my heartfelt thanks to the angels at Gosnell and Hospice of Southern Maine’s Bereavement Counseling”.

David Emery, age 80, is a native of New England and a semi-retired life-long Industrial Consultant with a degree in Industrial Psychology. He continues to use his skills by sitting on a number of boards, including Atlantic Hall of Cape Porpoise and an international chemical conglomerate. David continues to be an active participant in his church choir and the singing group, Senior Moments. Judy and David have two incredible children, Beth and Dwight, and four beautiful grown grandchildren.
2015 was a remarkable year of growth at Hospice of Southern Maine. We cared for 14% more patients and families at our Gosnell House, when compared to 2014. In our Home Program, where we typically see the vast majority of our patients, our patient census began to climb steadily mid-year resulting in 6% growth when comparing the last half of 2015 with our 2014 census.

On the expense side, as we cared for more patients, we appropriately saw a rise in costs directly related to patient care, such as clinical staff, medications and medical supplies. As we provided more care and our direct patient care expenses rose, we were able to keep our general and administrative expenses in check by taking advantage of improved processes throughout these departments.

The growth, coupled with expense management, helped us to achieve a positive operating bottom line. Our generous community continued to provide Hospice of Southern Maine with strong support and we ended the year with a total net income of $506,222. These funds will be rolled back into Hospice of Southern Maine’s programming so we can continue to achieve our short and long term plans in service to our community.

Our independent auditors provided an unmodified opinion in their report of our 2015 financial statements.

Respectfully submitted,

Mary T. Pinto
Finance and Information Systems Director

“Hospice will always be close to my heart. My mother needed hospice and when she died, I vowed that I would do whatever I could to change the statistics for hospice care in Maine. How fortunate that loved ones are able to have this support in the last days of their lives!”
