Liana's Story

"My heart overflows with gratitude as I reflect on my experience with Annette and Lynn, two incredible angels disguised as nurses at Hospice of Southern Maine. Witnessing their compassionate care for my grandmother during her challenging journey not only brightened her days but restored my faith in the quality of hospice care available.

Having experienced the stark contrast offered by another hospice provider in New York for my other grandmother, I approached hospice again with apprehension. What I witnessed instead was a symphony of genuine care, thoughtful questions, and unwavering positive spirits, all beautifully orchestrated by Annette, Lynn, and the rest of the care team.

Their dedication didn't stop at surface-level interactions. They asked insightful questions, truly listened to my grandmother's responses, and tailored their care to her unique needs and preferences. Even when I, as her loving granddaughter, occasionally found myself losing patience, Annette and Lynn remained pillars of grace and unwavering positivity. It was in their genuine smiles and the warmth in their eyes that I saw not just professionalism, but a deep, heartfelt care for their patients.

This dedication extended beyond my grandmother. When I remarked on their outstanding service, Annette, with genuine passion, credited the supportive leadership at Hospice of Southern Maine. It's evident that this organization fosters an environment where employees feel valued and empowered, allowing them to translate that care directly to the patients they serve.

Annette and Lynn, from the bottom of my heart, thank you. You are more than just nurses; you are beacons of sunshine in a challenging time, lighting up my grandmother's world with your kindness, skill, and unwavering dedication. You have not only restored my faith in hospice care but reminded me of the profound impact that dedicated healthcare professionals can have on their patients and families. May your light continue to shine brightly, touching the lives of countless others as you have so profoundly touched ours."
